

DR. RANDALL EATON

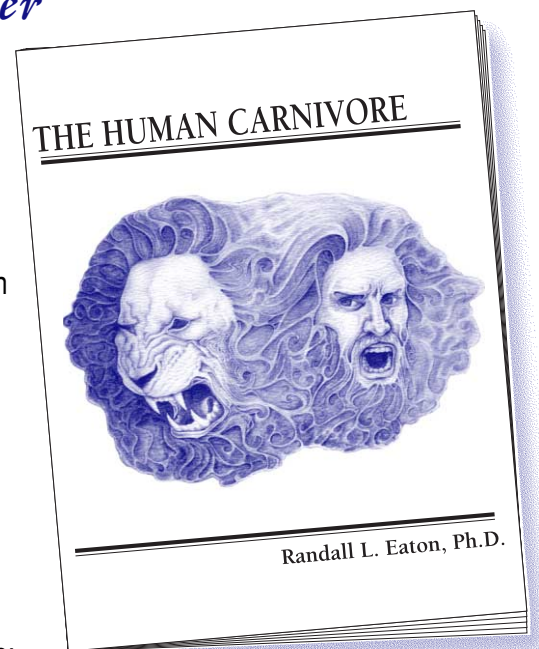

Award-winning Author and Film Producer offers a lecture on:

The Human Carnivore

Carnivory and Human Evolution. Competition with large predators and human social behavior. How humans won the lion's share. The evolution of trophy hunting. Why every society has a culture hero like Hercules. Origin of art as trophyism. Why the Edsel failed.

The Sacred Hunt. Hunting as interdependence. The values of aboriginal and recreational hunters. Thinking with the heart. Einstein, Jung, Leopold, Ortega and Picasso and the emerging philosophy of interdependence.

Hunting as Rite of Passage. What young men need. The pre-colonial path of initiation among the Lakota: How hunting engenders respect, power and responsibility. Subsistence hunting and the transformation of delinquents: a case study. Hunting as a solution to teen violence.

"Fascinating...a best seller...I have admired the originality and boldness of his work...one of the few truly humanistic scientists."

Edward O. Wilson, Harvard

"...program was great and extremely well received by a diverse audience...a very powerful speaker."

Thayne Maynard, Cincinnati Zoo

"Magical...No person ties our evolutionary past to the present as does Dr. Eaton..."

Dr. Dave Samuel, Univ. of West Virginia

"It was Dr. Randall Eaton who electrified the audience."

San Antonio Light

DR. RANDALL L. EATON

The recipient of two national book awards and a leader in international conservation. Editor of the scientific journal Carnivore: Carnivorous Mammals Including Humans of which the honorary editors were Nobel laureate Niko Tinbergen and E. O. Wilson.

Recipient of numerous awards for his films, The Sacred Hunt and The Sacred Hunt II: Rite of Passage. Fully initiated in the sacred traditions of the Maya and the Lakota and Pipe Holder in the Cherokee tradition. Dr. Eaton has held faculty positions at several prestigious universities in zoology, psychology, wildlife and humanities.

As an internationally known authority on animal behavior and human evolution, Dr. Eaton has appeared on NOVA and CBS TV National News, Fox TV National News and NPR, as well as interviews in LA Times, New York Times, Washington Post, Sports Illustrated and Saturday Review among others. Selected as Distinguished Conservationist for 2000 by North Carolina State University. He is organizing an international conference on "Hunting as Initiation: A Solution to Teen Violence."

Call (541) 426-2047 for fee and schedule information or write:
Dr. Randall L. Eaton • P.O. Box 280 • Enterprise, Oregon 97828
email: reaton@eoni.com • <http://www.eoni.com/~reaton>